FIGHT OVER FREE LIST CONTINUES

House Democrats Defeat Republican Opposition to Wool Schedule.

TECHNICAL FIGHT IS WAGED

The Hundred Million Dollars Income Tax is Considered—Republican Pays Tribute to Democratic Leader Underwood.

Washington, May 6.—The overwhelming majority in the House today swept through the free list, bowled over all opposition to free wool, free meats and other necessities, and passed on to consideration of the hundred million dollars income tax feature of the Underwood tariff bill.

Not a dent was made in the bill as approved by the Ways and Means Committee majority. It was expected the measure would be passed unamended by the House by tomorrow.

All day there was sparring across the aisle dividihg the Democrats and Republicans. Many amendments were offered by Republicans in a forlorn effort to put many free listed articles back on the dutiable list, but all were voted down with a regularity that brought smiles from the minority. Finally, when the last of these proposed changes had been rejected, Representative Payne precipitated a lively technical fight by offering a brand new amendment to create a tariff commission.

Instantly all the parliamentary sharps on both sides were astir. Speaker Clark sat next to Democratic Leader Underwood at the front of the speaker's rostrum where Mr. Underwood has been conducting consideration of the bill. Representative Fitzgerald, of New York, rushed in from the Appropriations Committee, armed with precedents, and followed by Representative Shirley, of Kentucky, and Hardwick, of Georgia, who joined in the majority protest against admitting the amendment. On the Republican side Leader Mann, Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts; Representative Payne, of New York, and others, so followed and addressed the House.

It was all over so quickly Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, in the chair sustaining a point of order more by Mr. Underwood, that the tariff commission amendment was not germane to the bill. When Representative Mann appealed from the decision the House sustained the chair 164 to 87.

Representative Hull, of Tennessee, chief draftsman of the income tax feature of the tariff bill, prepared tonight to resist a campaign by the minority on behalf of the mutual fire insurance companies which would be taxed 1 per cent. under the measure. Provisions affecting insurance companies were taken almost verbatim from the corporation tax law already in effect, but to avoid any possible question, committee amendments were prepared tonight to eliminate the slightest variation from the existing law.

A Democratic-Republican love feast was held in the House as consideration of the taxing provisions of the tariff bill drew to a close. The occasion was the birthday of Representative Underwood.

Minority Leader Mann announced that he wished to put aside partisan feeling for a time and talk personally. He told the House that 51 years ago "one of the ablest men in public life first saw the light of day," and congratulated the "Democratic party, and the American people that during the 51 years of his life there has grown to greatness and bigness the able gentleman from Alabama, Mr. Underwood."

Amid a roar of applause from both sides of the chamber, Mr. Underwood thanked Mr. Mann for his congratulations.

Regular reading of the income tax provision for amendment was completed in short order. Perfecting amendments offered by the Ways and Means Committee and adopted, included a provision exempting returned investments in insurance, and a clause changing the terms regarding mutual fire insurance companies, so as to allow them to deduct from their gross incomes the amount required under the State laws to be placed in their reserve funds. Another amendment changed the language of the provision imposing a tax of 1 per cent. on the net profits of insurance companies, so as to make the bill conform literally to the present corporation tax law.

Representative Mann for resident Commissioner Queson, of the Philippines, offered an amendment to tax the Chinese, Japanese and other residents of the Philippines as well as the Filipinos and Americans in the islands. The committee agreed to take this under consideration. The Philippine Commissioner unsuccessfully sought to relieve the Filipinos of any income tax, on the ground that they could not vote on this legislation. Representative Underwood explained that the inclusion of the Philippines in the income tax was to reach the wealth of the Philippine Island, and that the bill lightened the burdens of the small farmer of the Philippines by repealing the export tax on Philippine products.

As the discussion of the free list closed, Representative Donovan, a Connecticut Democrat, criticised the Ways and Means Committee for framing certain sections of the bill "unintelligently."

"The cotton schedule was brutally treated," he declared. He read a letter from the Crane Steel Company, protesting against the raising of the duty on Ferro manganese. This is from a company of one of the largest contributors to President Wilson's campaign fund," he said, "and a man who is to be sent as our representative to the court of Russia. He says the increased duty looks like a scheme of the steel trust to put the independent producers out of business."

COTTON MILLS IN CAROLINAS

Senator Overman Ca... President Wilson—Senator Sim... of Co... poses Oliver for Postma... at Reidsville.

Library of Congress

Wilmington Star Bureau,
23 Wyatt Building.

Washington, D. C., May 6.—Senator Lee S. Overman had a conference with President Wilson today in regard to the Underwood tariff bill as it affects the cotton mill industry of North Carolina. Senator Overman believes that the radical reduction proposed by the Underwood bill will work a hardship upon the cotton mill men of the South.

He thinks a gradual reduction—a reduction which will allow the cotton mill men to adjust themselves to these new conditions will not be objectionable to the mill men and effectively carry out the plank of the Democratic platform which calls for a gradual reduction in the tariff. It is understood that Mr. Wilson was non-communicative as to whether he would favor a change in the Underwood bill. Mr. Overman was with the President nearly half an hour and discussed the cotton situation thoroughly. It is thought as a result of Senator Overman's conference that some minor changes may result. Representative Webb, as already stated in these dispatches, has been working hard to secure certain amendments to the cotton measure and with the help of Senators Simmons and Overman some changes in favor of the cotton mill people is expected to be made.

Former Governor Robert B. Glenn called on Senator Simmons today and asked the Senior Senator not to interpose further objection to the confirmation of J. T. Oliver, who has been recommended for postmaster at Reidsville. While Senator Simmons has not talked to the writer in regard to this matter within the past 48 hours it is understood that the Senior Senator will not allow the confirmation of the Reidsville man. Mr. Simmons does not object to a man simply because he opposed him in the last campaign, but the vigorous denunciation of Mr. Simmons by Oliver was of such a character as to make his confirmation for the postmastership which he now seeks an almost impossibility. Many other men who were against Simmons last Fall have been nominated for high Federal offices and the Senior Senator has not made any objection to their confirmation. But where the Senator has been bitterly denounced throughout the State as it is understood to be true in the case of Mr. Oliver the candidate stands a poor chance of ever annexing his name to the Federal payroll.

The opposition to Findlay Williamson, who has been recommended for postmaster at Burlington, grows stronger each day. The postoffice department officials do not want Williamson, but would like to have O. F. Crowson. They have been told that Crowson would make the best postmaster because it is believed he would devote his entire time to the duties of the office. They do not believe a man with as much money as Williamson is reputed to have will devote his time to a small office like the Burlington berth. The officials here are very much surprised to learn that Williamson has been recommended for the place in the face of the strong endorsements which have been sent in for Crowson. It is understood that Representative Stedman will be urged to reconsider his recommendation and it is hoped Crowson will be named.

S. E. Williamson, State manager for Woodrow Wilson during the pre-convention campaign, is here. Williamson said when asked if he was looking for a job, "I had rather not talk about that just now."

CHARLES D. DALY REINSTATED.

Former Athletic Star Who Left Army Returns as Lieutenant.

Washington, May 6.—Charles D. Daly, the former Harvard and West Point football star, who quit the United States army to enter private life, was reinstated as a second lieutenant tonight by executive approval of his nomination by the Senate.

An attempt to have President Wilson notified at once of confirmation made at today's executive sesion was made by the Democrats. Senator Smoot objected, and cited the usual procedure of waiting two days before such notification was given to the White House. Lack of a quorum prevented a vote on the question. A large number of postmasters were approved.

The only vote taken was on the confirmation of J. L. Baity, as auditor of the War Department. Baity was secretary to Senator Reed, of Missouri, and Republicans opposed his confirmation because they claimed the incumbent was better qualified to hold the position.

FRANKLIN PIERCE

His Native State Will Erect Monument to His Memory

Concord, N. H., May 6.—Franklin Pierce, the only President of the United States from New Hampshire, seems assured at last of a statue by his native State. The Senate today passed a House bill providing $15,000 for the statue to be erected on the State House grounds. Governor Felker is expected to sign the measure.

The fact that Pierce was a Democrat and a pro-slavery man has hitherto aroused such strong opposition to the statue proposal that appropriation bills for the purpose always have been annulled by the long succession of Republican legislators. The present Legislature is Democratic for the first time in forty years.

ELECTION AT CHARLOTTE.

Bib Bond Issue for Improvement Purposes Was Defeated.

Charlotte, N. C., May 6.—At an election held here today the question of voting $50,000 in bonds for school purposes, and ten cents a hundred tax to provide free text books, and increase the school term of the city, was overwhelmingly defeated. A $100,000 bond issue for street improvement met a like fate. C. A. Bland was re-elected mayor without opposition.

CENTURY OF PEACE BETWEEN NATIONS

...ernational Conference in New York Agrees on Tentative Plans Therefor.

INFLUENCE ON THE COUNTRIES

Secretary Bryan to Speak Friday Night—Visitors Are Guests of Henry Clews and Cornelius Vanderbilt—Promote Idea

New York, May 6.—Before taking up today discussions of the plans for celebrating the 100 years of peace among English-speaking Nations, the International Conference in session here to arrange the programme tentatively, decided to adopt a statement of purposes that will make for a perpetuation of this peace.

The celebration, it was stated, was of secondary importance to the consideration of future peace between the two Nations as an object lesson to other countries now at war or preparing to engage in war to settle differences by force of arms. In this connection, it was announced tonight that at the banquet in honor of the visiting delegates on Friday night, Secretary of State Bryan would be present and is expected to make an important announcement.

A celebration plan considered was the erection of international peace monuments by Great Britain and the United States, possibly of identical design, the cost to be defrayed either from public funds or through private subscriptions. With the monument plan as a basis, other suggestions were that the cornerstone be laid on a chosen day by the King of England, the President of the United States and by their representatives, "beyond the seas," that other Nations and all foreign governments be invited to send delegates to attend these ceremonies; that on the day the cornerstones are laid there be a cessation of work for five minutes throughout the two countries and their colonies and that the occasion be observed by special exercises in the schools.

It was further suggested that a fitting way to promote the growth of mutual respect and good will between Great Britain and the United States and their colonies would be through the endowment in colleges and universities of chairs of British-American history with especial reference to the peaceful progress and relations of the two countries. This plan, it was suggested, could be based upon the principle of inter-changing professors. It was urged that under the same head should be considered the endowment of traveling scholarships to enable journalists and writers to visit English-speaking countries and the awarding of prizes for essays by school students on subjects of peace and the abolition of war among civilized peoples. The schools, the delegates agreed should be urged to include courses of history covering the period of 100 years of peace and to hold peace-day celebrations every year.

During the celebration period two years hence, the delegates agreed to urge that one day be set aside for universal religious services of thanksgiving, that it would be desirable to strike off an international commemorative medal, and to adopt a universal tablet to be placed in public buildings and affixed to the international monuments.

Charles A. McGrath, secretary of the Canadian delegation, said that in the executive session the delegates decided to postpone final action on the proposals to recommend the erection of permanent peace monuments on the frontiers and the proposed celebration at Ghent. Captain McGrath said that while suggestions made today were tentative, all of them would be considered very seriously and he felt assured that the programme would be arranged with them as the basis.

The delegates were the guests today, at luncheon, of Henry Clews, a member of the conference for this country, at which Mr. Clews and Lord Weardale were the principal speakers. Tonight they were the guests at dinner of Cornelius Vanderbilt. The executive session of the conference will be continued tomorrow.

DESPERADO UNAPPREHENDED

Rewards Aggregating Twenty-five Hundred Dollars Are Offered

Columbia, S. C., May 6.—Rewards aggregating $2,500 have been offered for the capture of Richard Henry Austin, the negro desperado, who on last Wednesday shot and killed three and wounded two other prominent citizens of Barnwell county and then made his escape to the swamps where he is now being pursued by large posses. Governor Blease today issued a proclamation offering $500, and similar rewards have been offered by the towns of Allendale, Luray, Fairfax and Hampton. The Governor's proclamation says that the reward will be paid for the body of Austin "just so there is enough of it to be recognized as him."

Barnwell, S. C., May 6.—An unconfirmed report from Clyo, Ga., late tonight stated that Richard Henry Austin, the negro outlaw, has been located in a swamp near that place and had killed one member of the posse of white men who were attempting to capture him. Another report, also unconfirmed, stated that Austin had been seen late today in the Black Creek swamp, 12 miles from Savannah.

Dallas, Tex., May 6.—Conference assignments for 1913 were made here today by the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, Va., will hold conferences at Holston, Tenn., Oct. 1, and at Cooksville, Tenn., Oct. 8. The Fall meeting of the College of Bishops will be at St. Louis October 30.

MAY BE ATLANTA MURDERER

Young Man Arrested in Texas and Held on Suspicion—Authorities Think He is Implicated in Pencil Factory Tragedy

Houston, Texas, May 6.—The actions of a man giving his name as Paul R. Bowen, observed by a woman boarder at the hotel where he was stopping, and the story she told the police caused his arrest here last night. Bowen is held on suspicion, the charge being based on telegrams from the Atlanta, Ga., police, saying Bowen is wanted in connection with the finding of the murdered body of Mary Phagan in an Atlanta pencil factory.

From Bowen's trunk the police obtained a woman's vest, which they say was blood-stained, copies of Atlanta newspapers, and a photograph which they identified as that of the murdered girl, Mary Phagan. This identification was made today by comparing the photograph with Atlanta papers. The woman informant gave her name as Mrs. A. Blanchette. She says her attention was attracted by hearing a man sobbing in the adjoining room at her hotel, and that by standing on a chair she looked through a transom at Bowen while he opened his trunk. She told the police that his actions had aroused her suspicions. Acting on her information they arrested Bowen.

Bowen this afternoon said he had been a bookkeeper and stenographer, and claimed that he worked in Atlanta, Ga., for the Morrow Transfer Company. He gave his home address as 108 Ivy street, that city. He denies knowing anything about the pencil factory, and persons connected with, or employed in the factory. He said he did not know the Phagan girl. His trunk contained dozens of pictures of young ladies, singly, and in groups. Letters from several young women are among his effects.

He positively declined to discuss the bloody vest, papers, letters or photographs, maintaining silence when asked about them.

Bowen Released.

Houston, Texas, May 6.—Paul P. Bowen was released late today. Chief of Detectives Peyton, of the local force, who was instrumental in the arrest, was relieved from duty with the department, Chief of Police Ben Davidson holding that he had exceeded his authority.

Arrest Not Important

Atlanta, Ga., May 6.—News that Paul Bowen, arrested at Houston, Texas, by detectives as a suspect in the murder of Mary Phagan in this city, had been liberated caused no surprise here tonight. Solicitor General Dorsey said this afternoon that he attached little importance to the arrest of Bowen and intended to await further news from Houston before taking any action. Police officials stated tonight that they were convinced Bowen could not have been connected with the crime as he had not been in Atlanta for several months.

Pending the resumption of the coroner's inquest next Thursday, police and detectives are directing their energies toward discovering the identity of the mysterious man who participated in an unusual scene with a young girl at the terminal station on the day before the Phagan girl's body was found. What bearing this will have upon the mystery the police have not disclosed.

TREASURY DEPT. OVERRULED.

Court Decides to Admit Horse Radish Roots Free of Duty.

Washington, May 6.—With the cost of living constantly soaring it may become cheaper to increase appetites of Americans, according to a decision of the Customs Court today. Overruling the Treasury Department's pleading for a 25 per cent. ad valorem duty on horse radish used the country over as a condiment, the court decided that the roots should be admitted free of duty. The department contended that a horse radish root was a vegetable, but the court officially named it a "vegetable substance."

Drawing a distinction between horse radish and "moss and seaweeds" mentioned in the tariff act as vegetable substances entitled to free entry, the government suggested that moss and seaweeds could not be used as food. The court came back with the statement that moss and seaweeds frequently are eaten.

Pensacola, Fla., May 6.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, who is touring the South for the purpose of inspecting naval stations spent today in Pensacola, making an examination of the local naval yard. Before leaving tonight for Key West, he would make no statement regarding the report that several Southern stations closed by his predecessor will be reopened.

PREMIER ASQUITH ON SUFFRAGE BILL

British Statesman Defends Government's Policy and Threatens to Resign

MILITANCY IS DENOUNCED

English House of Commons Votes 266 to 219 to Reject Bill Providing Franchise for Women—The Debate

London, May 6.—The fate of the woman's suffrage bill was sealed tonight by the votes of more than 50 Irish Nationalists, who voted against it. The bill, whereby it was sought to enfranchise six million women, was rejected by a majority of 47 votes, the vote stood 266 to 219.

Whether there is any chance that the present Parliament will pass a bill of more limited character may be doubted. Possibly the Nationalists fear that if they allow a woman's franchise bill to pass the second reading it will lead to a parliamentary struggle, which would not unlikely end in dissolution of Parliament before the home rule bill becomes a law. Furthermore, the debate today proved that the militant policy of the suffragists has done the cause great harm as far as Parliament is concerned. The conciliation bill of last season was rejected by only a small majority compared with the Dickinson bill under discussion today. Previous bills giving some measure of enfranchisement to women, have passed the second reading, although they never survived subsequent stages.

Recent police disclosures of acts of incendiarism planned by the militants far surpassing in magnitude anything heretofore attempted and the burning of St. Catherine's church at Hatcham today, undoubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill.

Announcement of the result of the vote was greeted by cheers from all sides of the House. The debate which on Monday proceeded with extraordinary apathy was today characterized by intensity and brilliant speeches. The house was crowded and pervaded with an atmosphere of electrical excitement. The strangers' galleries were packed and many anxious faces peered from behind the grilled, guarded gallery devoted to women.

Neither Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, nor A. J. Balfour voted in the division. Among the ministers who voted against the bill were Premier Asquith, Reginald McKenna, Lewis Harcourt, J. E. B. Seely, Winston Spencer Churchill and C. E. Hobhouse.

Supporters of the bill included Sir Edward Gray, David Lloyd-George, Rufus Isaacs, Augustine Birrell, Sidney Buxton, C. F. G. Masterman, Sir J. A. Simon and F. D. Aeland.

London, May 6.—In opposing the woman's suffrage bill in the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith said he would resign if his colleagues in the cabinet ever suggested that they did not feel justified in following a government, the head of which was opposed to them.

When debate was resumed this afternoon the Premier defended the government's course, saying it was consistent with best traditions of British statesmanship. He regretted that he found himself at variance from his colleagues on the suffrage question, and greatly as he would regret severing himself from the prosecution of other great causes, he would lay down his office if his colleagues ever insisted that they did not feel justified in following a government, the head of which was opposed to them.

"They never did that," declared the Premier amid cheers.

Mr. Asquith said the bill created 6,000,000 new voters, and it had never been approved by the existing electorate.

The Premier strongly denied that Parliament had been neglectful of the interests of women, and said he saw no evidence that British women as a whole wanted the vote.

Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, supported the bill. He said there was ample evidence that a very large section of the women of the country had shown by constitutional means that they favored the enfranchisement of their sex. Militancy, he characterized as the inconsiderate and criminal conduct of a small body of representative individuals with whose outrages the law had dealt, and ought to deal severely.

Nobody, he said, had greater reason to deplore the methods of the militant suffragists than those who desired the enfranchisement of women, but he argued that their outrages should not influence the decision of the House.

Many admitted women were fitted to deal with social and industrial matters of legislation which vitally affected their interests, but were not fitted to deal with questions of foreign policy, he said.

Lord Robert Cecil, advocating the bill, contended that the vote against it because of militant outrages would be utterly illogical and unworthy of the high standard of intelligence claimed by members of the House.

The Right Hon. Walter Hume Long in opposing the measure first congratulated the prime minister on the ability and calm dignity displayed in his speech, despite the treatment he had received at the hands of the suffragettes, which, he took occasion to say "is a disgrace to the country." He urged that the passage of the bill would not stop militant tactics, but would only lead to fiercer agitation for a larger measure of enfranchisement.

The Right Hon. Frederick E. Smith said supporters of the bill repudiated the militants when it suited them, but would use them as long as it paid to do so.

It was not until 1906, when militancy began that a single member of the House took the movement seriously. The great bulk of the women, he maintained, were indifferent to the franchise. The country had never been consulted on the question. Under such circumstances, therefore, for the "Unionists" to vote for the bill would be grossly inconsistent with their opposition to home rule, on the ground that the electorate had given no mandate for it.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT FAILS

Southern Presbyterians Decide for Second Time Not to Change Elect Infant Clause in Their Confession of Faith.

Louisville, Ky., May 6.—For the second time the proposed amendment to the confession of faith, in connection with the much discussed elect infant clause, has failed to receive the necessary three-fourths vote of the Presbyteries of the Southern Presbyterian church.

Although defeated on a former occasion, the General Assembly last year again submitted to the Presbyteries the matter of changing the language of the confession of faith.

It has been charged that the language of the confession as it now reads, "elect infants dying in infancy, etc." can be construed as declaring that some infants are elect, and some are not elect. Those who favor the change argue that the church believes all children dying in infancy are saved, and that the confession of faith should be revised so as clearly to convey this idea.

They had hoped to receive the necessary three-fourth vote and see the change formally passed when the Assembly meets this month in Atlanta. Returns received up to tonight by the Christian Observer of Louisville, show that 22 Presbyteries already have voted against the proposed change, thus insuring its defeat. These are Abingdon, Albemarle, Athens, Atlanta, Bethel, Central Mississippi, Charleston, Cherokee, Concord, Harmony, LaFayette, Mecklenburg, Muhlenburg, New Orleans, Red River, Roanoke, St. Louis, Tygart's Valley, West Hanover, Wilmington, Winchester and King's Mountain.

RIOT OF STRIKERS.

Demand for Higher Wages Culminates in Disaster—Twenty-five Wounded.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 6.—Determined efforts are being made here tonight to settle the strike of building laborers which today developed a series of riots in which 25 persons, nine of them policemen, were wounded.

The strikers met this afternoon with Seasare Sconfetti, Italian consul agent at Rochester, who came to Syracuse and appointed a committee to wait on the employers with a view of arbitrating the wage dispute. The contractors have signified their willingness to arbitrate.

Order was restored with the first negotiations for a settlement, and the three local companies of State militia which had been called out during the riot had nothing to do.

The strike started last Thursday when the demand of 2,500 laborers and hod carriers for increased wages was rejected.

The strikers, most of them foreigners, this morning attempted to force workers from a structure in front of the cathedral in the heart of the city.

Policemen and a fire company were rushed to the scene and were greeted with a volley of bricks, stones and clubs. The police, to frighten the strikers, fired their revolvers into the air, but when the rioters continued their charge, the officers fired at the strikers. The police took 25 prisoners, 10 of whom were hurt, three seriously.

During the fight one policeman's skull was fractured, and his condition is serious. Eight other officers were cut and bruised.

Giuseppi Vasta was shot through the abdomen and his recovery is not expected. Martin Lull was shot in the shoulder. Other clashes occurred in which several persons were slightly injured.

PLAYGROUND RECREATION.

President Wilson Favors Campaign to Help Child Life.

Richmond, Va., May 6.—At the opening session of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, here tonight, letters were read from President Wilson and former President Roosevelt, commending the worldwide campaign to help child life by providing proper places in which boys and girls may play. Theodore Roosevelt was elected honorary president, and Joseph Lee, of Boston, was re-elected president.

In his letter, President Wilson said: "I am very sorry I cannot attend your great meeting, because I have the deepest and sincerest interest in the object it is seeking to serve. It seems to me of real consequence, morally as well as physically, that the children who are growing up, particularly in our great cities, should have spaces to play, and a knowledge of how to play. It is certainly in the welfare of our communities that they should be assisted to obtain those amusements which are both good and refreshing."

JURY FINDS FOUR POLICEMEN GUILTY

Former Inspectors Who Tried to Obstruct Justice, to be Punished.

DEFENDANTS STOOD UNMOVED

New York Officers Alleged to Have Entered Conspiracy to Keep Prospective Witness From Disclosing Graft Methods.

New York, May 6.—James F. Thompson, James E. Hussey, John J. Murtha and Dennis Sweeney, the four police inspectors charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, were convicted by a jury in the Supreme Court shortly after 8 o'clock tonight.

Only 32 minutes were taken by the jurors to reach their verdict that the defendants were guilty of a misdemeanor in plotting to keep a prospective witness against the "system" from making graft disclosures before the grand jury.

The accused officials stood outwardly unmoved as they heard the verdict. The crowd in the court room caused a disturbance, shuffling chairs and feet, until attendants checked the disorder. The prisoners gave their pedigrees, and after being remanded for sentence Friday were returned to their cells.

Counsel announced that a certificate of reasonable doubt would be sought which would give the prisoners a chance to go free on bail pending efforts to obtain a new trial.

The penalty for obstruction of justice is one year in jail, or a fine of $500 or both. It was reported that the jury required only one ballot to reach its decision.

An attorney for the defense declared the verdict was a "shock" and the briefness of the jury's deliberation a "surprise."

The conviction of Thompson, Hussey, Murtha and Sweeney is regarded by Mr. Whitman as the most important yet won in connection with his expose of the police "system" that was shown to link law enforcement with the city's underworld when Becker, the police lieutenant, hired the four gunmen to murder Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, last Summer.

The men were on trial seven court days. District Attorney Whitman and assistants produced evidence to show that the four plotted to buy the silence of George A. Sipp, a resort keeper, through bribing him to flee the State last December, after he had told the aldermanic committee that was investigating the police department that for years he had made monthly payments to the police for protection for his resort.

Before Mr. Whitman had a chance to get Sipp to repeat this testimony before the grand jury the hotel man left the city.

Upon being returned to the court's jurisdiction, he declared he had been bribed with $2,000 to leave. The prosecutor's inquiry into his story resulted in the joint indictment of the defendants, then inspectors.

During the trial the State introduced evidence tending to show that graft payments by Sipp reached the defendants who in turn commanded the Harlem district, where Sipp's hotel was located. The tribute was collected for Thomas Walsh, who was captain of a Harlem precinct, and Walsh divided with the inspectors, according to his confession. The amount of graft exacted was in dispute during the trial, but Mr. Whitman in summing up this afternoon stated it was $42,000 a year in Walsh's precinct alone. Walsh and Sipp were the State's chief witnesses.

The prosecution also contended that besides the Sipp fund, a bribe sum of $15,000 was planned by the defendants to furnish bair for Eugene Fox, a policeman, and to provide for his family if he went to jail without "squealing". Fox awaits sentence for bribery as Walsh's collector, his confession terminating the necessity of a fund by the "system to insure his silence."

The final day of the trial was occupied by the completion of summing up for the defense, Mr. Whitman's argument for the State, and the court's charge to the jury. The prosecutor emphasized what he declared was the weakness of the case of the defense—alibis, character testimony, and efforts to discredit some of the prosecution's witnesses on the ground that they were graft givers and graft takers. The case went to the jury in the early evening.

KING'S MURDERER A SUICIDE

Man Who Killed King of Greece Takes His Own Life

Athens, Greece, May 6.—Aleko Shinas, who assassinated King George of Greece, on March 18th, at Saloniki, committed suicide this morning by flinging himself out of a window of the police station in that city. Schinas was a native of the town of Volo.

He killed the King by firing point blank into his back while he was walking along the streets of Saloniki accompanied by an aide. Schinas gave as an explanation of the crime that in 1911 he applied for assistance at the King's palace, and had been driven away. A few days ago the doctors examined the murderer and announced that he was dying of tuberculosis.

NATIONAL LEAGUE CIRCUIT

New Yorks Shake Off Hoo-Doo and Brooklyn Takes First of Chicago Series—Wagner Back in Game—Results.

National League clubs held the centre of the stage yesterday in baseballdom, no games having been played in the American, the teams being en route for their Western trip. The feature of the Nationals' playing for the day was the shaking of the Hoo-doo by the New Yorks, winning from Cincinnati in a slugging match 8 to 6. Tinker's team, however, played a great uphill game.

Brooklyn took the first of the Chicago series in a battle of managerial wits between Dahlen and Evers over pinch hitters. Wagner got back in the game yesterday, but Pittsburg was defeated by Boston in a 10-inning game, 3 to 2. Wingo saved the day for St. Louis as a pinch hitter and crabbed the game with Philadelphia by a score of 3 to 1.

Score Seven to Three at Durham in Game Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., May 6.—Guilford defeated Trinity in a loose game 7 to 3. Godfrey pitched for Trinity, and after the second inning pitched good ball, but his support was poor. Shore's support was no better, Trinity getting 12 hits, mostly scratch hits. Maddox was in fine form behind the bat and caught five difficult fouls. Guilford scored in the first, three in the second, one in the fifth and two in the ninth. Adams in right field made a beautiful throw from deep right, catching Shore at the plate. Maddox made the first run for Trinity in the fifth, scoring on Litchfield's long hit. Spence scored in the eighth on catcher's error, and Anderson did likewise in the ninth. Hitting was frequent and errors many on both sides. Batteries: Godfrey, and Maddox; Shore and Moorefield. Hits off Shore 12; off Godfrey 12; fanned, Godfrey 4, Shore 9. Umpire Henderson.

YACHT CLUB REPLIES.

Rules Regulating Contest of Race Meet Must be Elucidated.

London, May 6.—The Royal Ulster Yacht Club today received a letter from the New York Yacht Club, replying to Sir Thomas Lipton's challenge to a race with Shamrock IV, for the America's cup, in which it is stated that the New York Yacht Club since 1902 has made radical changes in its system of measurement and time allowance, and that important changes also have been made in the racing rules. The letter continues:

"Your reference, therefore, to the regulations of the last contest as governing the present challenge leaves it uncertain whether you mean a challenge for a match sailed with or without time allowance, and if with time allowance, whether you propose it to be sailed under the New York Yacht Club system of measurement and time allowance, and under the racing regulations of 1902, which governed the last contest, but which are not in force at the present time."

The letter concludes by asking for information on these points, "as it is essential that our committee be informed of the specific nature of the match proposed before it can take any action on the challenge."

OWENS GETS PINK SLIP.

National League Umpire Fired for Entering Gambling Dens.

New York, May 6.—President Lynch, of the National League, announced tonight that he had dismissed Umpire C. H. Owens, for violation of the rules of deportment. The violation alleged consisted in entering a gambling resort. In making the announcement, President Lynch said:

"Umpires in the National League by their deportment on and off the ball field are supposed to add dignity to their positions as representatives of the league. They are backed up by the president in the discharge of their duties and in order to gain and hold the respect of the players, the press and the public it is most essential that their conduct at all times be above reproach.

"Mr. Owens, by his action has forfeited the right to protection afforded him by the president of the league and for the good of the game he is discharged."

THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

Men Who Finished Second in Events Will Get Prizes.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 6.—The prizes won at the Olympic games at Stockholm by James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian Athlete, will be forwarded to the men who finished second in the event. The International committee of the Olympic games so decided today on motion of the American delegates.

The Thorpe case came up in a private session of the committee. Thorpe, who after the games at Stockholm confessed to professionalism, was the winner of the much-coveted trophies, the Viking ship offered by the Emperor of Russia, to the winner of the Decathlon and the bronze bust of the King of Sweden, offered by the King to the winner of the Penathathlon, both around competitions. These trophies will now go to H. Weislander, of Sweden, and F. R. Bie, of Norway, respectively.

They unanimously adopted the British proposal to send congratulations to the amateur athletic union for the sportsmanlike manner in which the American organization had handled the case. All the delegates regret the Thorpe affair, but praise the Americans for their promptitude in making amends.

Sixty delegates attended the regular session of the International committee, this being the 15th annual meeting. Baron DeCoubertin, the president, as referee presented a gold medal to Prof. DeFelice, rector of Laudanne University. He is the third recipient of this medal, the others being Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and the King of Sweden.

SALEMBURG'S DEFEAT

Roseboro Defeats Strong Ball Team, Score 2 to 1

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Roseboro, N. C., May 6.—A throw from left to home in the fourth by Underwood and a two-bagger in the eighth by Bullard, scoring two men, saved the game for the Roseboro heavy hitters Saturday. The game was interesting from start to finish. Salemburg put one across the plate in the fourth and there was no more scoring until the eighth when Roseboro put two across the plate. Watson, for Roseboro, did fine pitching but owing to his physical condition, he was relieved after the fourth by Bullard. Roseboro has lost but one game this season.

Oxford, England, May 6.—The Athletic authorities at Oxford and Cambridge universities have declined the challenge from Harvard and Yale universities for a track and field meet at the Harvard Stadium in June, because of lack of necessary funds at that date, and because examinations will then be in progress. They suggest September as more suitable.

IN THE FIELD OF AVIATION

Langley Day Celebrated at Smithsonian Institute—Eiffel and Curtiss Presented With Medals for Work—Exercises.

Washington, May 6.—Three workers in the field of aviation, one dead, the other two living, were honored here today by the Smithsonian Institution, which unveiled a tablet to the memory of the late Dr. Samuel Pierpont Langley, inventor of the first heavier than air machine to fly, and presented Langley medals to a Frenchman, Gustave Eiffel, for his valuable experiments in aerodromics and to Glenn H. Curtiss, the young American who has been a leader in hydro-aeroplane invention.

As M. Eiffel could not be present the French ambassador, J. J. Jusserand, received his medal.

Another feature of the celebration of Langley Day—so called because on this date 17 years ago Langley's first flight of a heavier than air machine, propelled by its own power, was made—was an exhibition of aeroplane and hydro-aeroplane maneuvers on the army war college grounds. Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge expressed his desire to make a fight and was taken up by Lieut. John H. Towers, navy aviator, in the Curtiss flying boat. "It was just riding in a ferry boat," he said after returning to the dock.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, a regent of the Smithsonian institution, presented the medals. Dr. John A. Brashear, a worker with and a long time friend of Prof. Langley, made an address in which he praised Langley both as a most careful scientist and as a man, and then drew aside the flag which covered the bronze tablet.

In accepting the medal on behalf of M. Eiffel, the French ambassador spoke of the ways in which this country and his had been vieing with each other in aviation experiment as well as in many other fields of science. He spoke of Eiffel, over 80 years old, but "with the enthusiasm of youth," as one of the men of whom France was most proud. The Eiffel tower designed by the man honored today for his work later in aerodromic, the ambassador said, was "a thing of beauty because it had become a thing of use." as he referred to experiments in aviation and wireless telegraph which had centered about the tower as being links that helped to bind France and the United States closer together. Mr. Curtiss in accepting his medal praised highly the work of Langley.

Hanging in the hall where the exercises took place was the machine which made the historic first flight 17 years ago today. Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution in which position he succeeded Dr. Langley, presided.

Andrews was on the mound for St. Andrew's, and Griffith did the slab work for the Presbyterian boys, both did good work. The feature of the game was the feeling of Farmer for the St. Andrew's boys. The teams' standing is as follows: St. James' Sunday School won 1 and lost 0; First Presbyterian Sunday School, won 1 and lost 1; St. Andrew's Sunday School, won 0; and lost 1.

MAN'S PROBLEM.

Men Must Grapple With Social Evil Says Speaker.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 6.—"It is the men of the country who must fight the social evil", says Dean Walter Sumner, of Chicago, in an address today to the clergy and laymen of the New Jersey diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church in attendance upon the convention in progress.

"Time was that this was woman's problem, but no longer. It is the duty of the church to remove the demand for as gruesome business as this, that smirches so many American cities. It is the duty of men of the church."

DAVID'S

Dress as well as you can afford

YOUNG men who can afford to dress well—in these days no young man can afford not to—find that $25 is about the right price to pay for clothes; and that our suits, ready, are the best value they can get for the money.

Even those who think $25 is more than they can afford are learning that the better fabrics, the better linings and trimmings, the better tailoring at $25 give a satisfaction and service that are worth more than the difference in the price; you'll pay $40 or $50 for such qualities if made-to-measure.

The day when men of good sense and taste thought they could get all they wanted in clothes at $15 has been long since passed; and the day when the made-to-measure idea can charm a lot of extra dollars out of a man's pocket is passing.

You'll see here ready clothes that meet all the requirements of well-dressed men; the styles are correct to the smallest detail; the fabrics and other materials are the best; the tailoring is thorough and high grade; the clothes fit.

What more do you want? You can get our suits as low as $15, and as high as $50; but we emphasize $25 as a good starting point; a man ought to dress as well as he can afford.

Will of Late Jno. T. Pullen Filed—Hearings by Corporation Commission—Pardons Granted. Other News Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 6.—The late John T. Pullen has left the trustees of Fayetteville Street Baptist church all his real estate, estimated at probably $100,000. The will of Mr. Pullen is just filed for probate. The real estate is to be held by the trustees for the benefit of the church and if a new church is desired the property may be sold for this purpose. The will distributes considerable sums of money among relatives and friends, in sums from $25 to $1,000 each. Rex Hospital and Old Ladies' Home were each given $3,000, and the home an additional $3,000 to provide weekly suppers for the old ladies such as Mr. Pullen provided them while he lived; also, provision is made for an annual dinner to the old folks of the city at Fayetteville Street church each New Year's day, a dinner he has given each year for many years. The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church gets $500, the sum of $1,000 is left with Rev. Livingston Johnson, of the Baptist church, to continue Mr. Pullen's personal work for many years past in distributing small books of the Bible to people needing them. Any residue of his estate beyond the bequests specified is to go to the Thomasville Baptist Orphanage and the Methodist Orphanage here by equal division.

Governor Craig has granted a pardon for Jacob Gant, who has served all of a five-year sentence from Alexander county for murder, except time that under the present law as to time off for good behavior and otherwise he would have credit for. Governor Kitchin declined twice to pardon Gant. In the papers was found a statement from Solicitor Linney to the effect that he could not have convicted Gant except for the fact that the killing was in a place regarded as a blind tiger and that the evidence indicated to him that the killing was in self defense. However, in one of the earlier petitions protesting against the pardon asked of Governor Kitchin there was the signature of Linney in pencil, opposing the pardon.

There are three important hearings set by the Corporation Commission this month. The first is in the Rockingham case for May 16th, in which there is demand for the physical connection of the Seaboard Air Line and the Rockingham railroads. This will be in the offices of the commission at Raleigh. May 20th at Greensboro there will be the hearing on the petition for improved train service on the Southern Railroad from Sanford to Mount Airy and for better passenger station facilities at Mount Airy. Then on May 23rd at Raleigh, there will be the hearing in the case of 75 central and Western Carolina shippers against the Southern Railroad Co., for refunds on excessive rates on freight charged on inter-divisional shipments into and out of the Western Carolina divisions of the Southern on which high divisional rates are allowed because of high cost of maintenance and operation. The petitioners claim that the Southern could only apply the high rate to shipments wholly within the particular divisions instead of applying it to the whole of shipments that originate in the division and extends far into Central Carolina. This is an especially important hearing. The refunds involved will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A charter is issued for the Gibsonville Insurance & Real Estate Co., of Gibsonville, capital $50,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by W. E. Sharpe and others, of Burlington. KILLED IN CHICAGO

Kinston Man Receives Intelligence—Dangerous Blaze—Other Items

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., May 6.—J. C. Hay, a well known resident of this city, is in receipt of the intelligence of the death of his brother, R. S. Hay, by being run down by an automobile truck in Chicago. No details of the fatality are available yet. R. S. Hay was a native of Kinston, but had lived in Chicago for 30 years. He was 70 years of age, and is survived by two daughters and three brothers. Mr. Hay was a telegraph operator, and one of the oldest men in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad. The funeral will be held in the West.

A dangerous blaze started in the biggest garage in this city from an unknown cause. When a negro chauffeur was filling the gasoline tank of an automobile an attendant noticed that the valve on the under side of the tank was open and that the fluid was pouring out in a puddle. The negro stooped to turn off the valve and as he did so the liquid gas flashed into a blaze. The man was not smoking and had no matches. It is presumed that he stepped on a match which ignited. Immediately tongues of flame licked the beams and rafters of the floor above, bursting through the burning machine, which was near the rear of the building. The proprietor, C. E. Spear, sustained a badly mashed finger in rolling a barrel of gasoline out of the garage. The firemen, after coming three blocks, had a stream playing upon the burning automobile before the paint had been scarred on the chassis or fenders, the latter protecting the tires, but the body was almost burned away. The blaze in the interior of the garage was extinguished before the damage was great. The damage to the car, a new touring car which had never been cranked, was $300.

Mrs. Sarah J. Fordham, a well known Greene county woman, died suddenly at her home eight miles from Snow Hill. Mrs. Fordham, who was 70 years of age, was the widow of a prominent farmer. She went into the yard at her home to attend some chickens in which she was interested, and fell dead.

MRS. BENNETT SAYS "PUBLISH"

Thinks Her Letter Made Public Might Result in Some Good—All Ladies Should Read.

Henderson, Tex.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. T. V. Bennett says: "Last November I was taken very sick, and had two doctors. They doctored me for most everything that could be thought of, and at last they told me it would be necessary to have an operation. I couldn't give in to this, although I was suffering great pain.

Finally I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I hadn't used it but a short time before I was up, feeling good, and able to do my work.

I am still getting along fine, and can recommend Cardui, the woman's tonic to all suffering women. I shall always praise this great medicine.

If you think my experience would be of any benefit to any suffering woman, you are at liberty to publish it."

Cardui, the woman's tonic, is strictly a woman's medicine, made up of pure, harmless vegetable ingredients which act directly on the womanly constitution.

It stimulates the weakened organs and helps build them up to health and strength.

We receive numerous letters, every day similar to the one above. If it has benefitted so many thousands of other women, why shouldn't it do the same for you?

Give Cardui a trial.

N. B.—Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co.; Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper.

Big Day at the Grand.

The six-piece orchestra at the Grand Theatre has certainly caught the crowds and the innovation introduced there by the management is proving popular indeed. A special programme is offered each night and today there will be an overture, "These Rag-Time Melodies" and "Wedding Dance," a waltz by Jos. W. Stern & Co. The orchestra is certainly proving a great factor in the purveying of amusement at the popular Grand and the programmes are being heard with increasing delight every time it appears.

In the pictures there is also a swell bill and one that will be pleasing to all. "With Love's Eyes" is a powerful Selig, telling how the fire of fate was merciful, and then there is a powerful Lubin, "Baby's New Pin" and "Beating Mother To It." The latter is a sparkling comedy of a love affair that will keep the audience in a roar of laughter, while following the intricacies of an altogether interesting problem. Then there will be a fourth picture and everybody is invited to come and see possibly the very best bill of the week.

Four Pictures at Bijou.

Four more of those big and up-to-date film pictures for which the popular Bijou is so well noted will be offered today. This swell show, plus new and merry music, will be given under the most auspicious circumstances, as the theatre is delightfully and healthfully cool this kind of weather, the ventilation being free and perfect. The great quartette of films will be headed by Kalem's latest dramatic, "The Secret Marriage," in which three well known Thespians will take star part—Miss Irene Boyle and Messrs. James Vincent and Harry Millard. It tells a stirring, rugged story.

Selig offers something big and novel in "Cured of Her Love". It is something entirely out of the ordinary, and is humorous from start to finish.

But one of the swellest of fun pictures on today is "That Mail Order Suit." It is a rattler from the very beginning, when Steve gets it into his head that a mail order suit of clothes will do him. It is a misfit and he gives it away. All kinds of most laughable complications take place that will make folks split their sides with merriment.

The fourth picture for today is every bit as fine as the others and is the very latest and best Eclipse, "The Angel Child."

SUICIDE IN MOUNTAINS

Wife of Prominent Farmer Near Waynesville Drowns Herself

Asheville, N. C., May 6.—In a fit of mental despression, Mrs. Newt Leatherwood, wife of a prominent farmer living near Waynesville, committed suicide at 10 o'clock this morning by drowning.

Early this morning the deceased dressed her two youngest children and sent them out to a neighboring field where two older children were at work. At noon the children returning, missed their mother. She was traced to the banks of Richmond creek, where her clothes were found neatly piled. The body was recovered late this afternoon.

Two Generations Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative-tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mrs. Clara

ELSIE LEWIS.

Lewis, Becks' Store, Ky., who gave it to her baby, Elsie, while teething, and says: "It is the best medicine in the world for the stomach and bowels." She writes that she keeps it in the house for every member of the family, takes it herself and that her mother recovered her health and gained in flesh by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

"Thirty-Six" $1950. Fully equipped. F. o. b. Detroit.

You Can Buy

an automobile for less than the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" price, but you cannot get Chalmers "Thirty-Six" features and quality in that automobile.

We mean that. And we can prove it.

For any less price than $1950 you can't get, for instance, a four forward-speed transmission and all ground gears. Four forward speeds mean utmost flexibility. All ground gears mean freedom from noise, friction, wear. Insist on a four forward speed transmission. Once you have used this wonderful improvement you will never be satisfied to drive a three-speed car.

You can't get, for less than the "Thirty-Six" price, a motor of equal quality. Big and sturdy, with 4¼" bore and 5¼" stroke, this motor delivers to the driving wheels full 36 actual horse power—day in, day out, Summer and Winter. It hangs on.

For less money, than $1950, you can't equal the "Thirty-Six" convenience; Chalmers compressed air self-starter; Gray & Davis electric lighting system; power tire inflater; demountable rims; carburetor dash adjustment.

Comfort equal to that of the "Thirty-Six" you cant' possibly secure for less than the "Thirty-Six" price. In fact, we doubt if you can get the same complete restfulness in any car—at even higher prices. Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery; long wheel base (118"); big wheels and tires (36"x4"); long, flexible springs—make Chalmers riding a delight.

For less than the Chalmers price you inevitably get less than the Chalmers quality. It pays to buy good quality at the start. Don't try to "save" money at the cost of permanent satisfaction.

Let us show you the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" today.

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

Wednesday, May 7, 1913.

Old Nick gets everything that is coming to him.

Gee. But it's something to be Mayor of Wilmington.

Meet all your friends and everybody else in Wilmington on the Fourth of July.

When politicians decide to bury the hatchet, probably they do so because they have an axe to grind together.

A suffragette is one of our lady friends who acknowledges that she is old enough to vote if she gets a chance.

Lots of the happiness in this world is because people have money to spend for something that they don't need.

Some men have to live up to their reputations, and others have to live theirs down. They frequently shake and call it about even.

Some men fret and fume because they have to pay a tax on their income. Others regret and grieve because they have no income that is big enough to stand a tax.

This balmy weather makes a fellow wish, He could join the guys who loaf and fish; These gregarious stags pack up and go, And they boat and camp and fish and blow.

You're about all in and down and out, Aye, you frown and growl and never smile; You're too full—that is of gloom and doubt, Take a brief respite and fish a while.

A man's struggle against ill disguised evasion and palpable prevarication begins when he is asked if he was ever jilted and thrown down for some other individual.

If growing cotton would make farmers rich, they could give the laugh to those who are trying to enable them to get credit without having to pay more interest than everybody else.

Some old crossbone says "women are slaves to fashion." Lady Duff Gordon says they are nature loving savages. Those of us who know them better regard them as devotees of artistic creation.

Schools of blue fish are reported off our shores. Those fish are fully educated up to the idea that the most delightful place for their schools is along the seashore close to Winsome, Worthwhile Wilmington.

When a man is living he has no idea how much is thought of him, and when he is dead the community doesn't know how he stood till it reads his obituary and realizes that so many really miss him from their midst.

The food experts are now telling us to eat plenty of wheat bran. As a matter of course, we are going to try bran a while with the understanding that we can have a bundle of fodder and a peck of cracked corn between meals.

While you have a chance to be happy yourself and to make others happy, don't let it slip by. After you have accumulated reasons for harboring a grouch or contracting the sorehead, it will be too late to make the most of the best part of life.

The American suffragettes are now appealing to the sentiment of American men by printing the pictures of their pretty tableaux poses. If any further opposition to them should manifest itself after this, it can be hopelessly crushed by starting up a free lunch crusade.

A lawyer representing the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad acknowledges that he spent $100,000 "moulding opinion in New England." We can't see how he could do so very much "moulding" with a little wad like that. If he really succeeded it accounts for lots of the cheap opinion that we have to take from New England.

The New York Tribune (Rep.) says: Secretary Bryan is returning to Washington with the depressing consciousness that his mission to California failed. "Mr. Bryan failed because he wandered from the main point," says our critical contemporary. Yet if Secretary Bryan had meandered right up to "the main point" and got it broke off in him, we very much fear that the Tribune would not have been among his sympathizers.

Since Montenegro has "yielded to pressure", Esaad Pasha will meet up with Esaad fate if he persists in the hallucination that he will be permitted to make himself Emir of Albania. The hero of Scutari ought to rest on his war laurels and betake himself to the more lucrative occupation of making a new brand of Turkish cigarettes to be known by his name. That would perpetuate his fame. Can a Turk be relied upon to recognize and seize his opportunity?

The man who raises something to eat will find consumers right in his own household, and if the supply at home is greater than the demand, it can be sold at a good profit to consumers whose demand is greater than the supply. We raise cotton to supply the demand for clothing, but we do not produce what we need to make us independent of those who furnish us our meat, butter, meal, flour, grits, rice and scores of foodstuffs absolutely necessary for existence.

WILMINGTON'S NEW ADMINISTRATION

Mayor P. Q. Moore and Councilmen W. F. Jones, T. W. Wood, B. A. Merritt, D. N. Chadwick, Jr., and Charles C. Loughlin were inducted into office yesterday, following their election at the polls last Monday. These gentlemen, one and all, are to be congratulated upon the honor which has been bestowed upon them by the qualified voters of Wilmington. They constitute this city's government for two years and will control its destinies at a time when the city is marking its greatest progress. It is a growing, thrifty and prosperous Wilmington that has been committed into their hands, and her people will carefully watch their administration for economical, efficient and constructive government.

A great task has been confided into the keeping of Mayor Moore and the Council, and the importance of Wilmington entitles them to the congratulations and best wishes of the people. They should have the hearty co-operation of our citizens in enforcement of the law and in all the wise measures necessary to go on making a Greater Wilmington.

There are problems to be met by the new administration and it should have the earnest encouragement and support of the entire population. After expenditures of more than a million dollars for streets, sewerage and betterments, the city is in the best physical condition in all its history. With a fire department equipped with the most modern apparatus, the insurance rate here is the lowest in the State. Necessarily all these improvements make a rate of taxation somewhat larger than some cities, but when the low insurance rate is taken into consideration it can truthfully be said that Wilmington has advantages that make her a most desirable city in every particular. Wise administration during the next two years can but keep the city moving forward on the splendid pace that she set a few years ago and is keeping up at a livlier clip year in and year out.

Wilmington is a finer and better city than it ever was. She has spent money and is worth more than she was ever worth. It is a prettier, busier, more substantial city. Values have greatly increased, and the people of Wilmington consider that the investments they have made in improvements is one that represents an outlay that has given us a modern and model city. Let the good work keep up, and Wilmington will do the rest.

SCARING THE COTTON GROWERS

The anti-tariff revisionaries are telling the farmers that reduction of the tariff on cotton manufactures will affect the price of raw cotton. The fact is, that may actually happen. If it increases our importation of foreign cotton manufacturers there will be a greater demand in Europe for the farmers' cotton and certainly such a demand is more than likely to keep up the price instead of lowering it. Anyhow, protected American manufacturers pay only the price that is established on a basis fixed by European consumers.

That is the case whether our tariff is high or low, and no doubt the farmers know it. Europe consumes two-thirds of all the cotton grown in the South, and the price there, and also here, depends upon the demand by foreign spinners. Of course, the manufacturers here may be hit by a lower tariff, but we have our doubts whether the farmers would ever know it or feel it.

The farmer happens to be in the position that while he makes unprotected raw cotton, he is a consumer of manufactured cottons. He pays the tariff tax on his shirt and clothing, and the probability is that whatever happens, the cotton grower stands every chance of breaking even, especially if the cost of production is lowered by tariff reduction on everything he buys. If we were a farmer we would not lose any sleep worrying over a situation that is controlled in Europe, without regard to our tariff. While our cotton mills were closed in 1907, cotton went right on selling at a good price, because the spindles hummed in Europe, and our cotton crop was short.

Our growers who remember that and know it to be true, promptly marvel that cotton sold at a really high price throughout the Roosevelt panic, when the cotton milling industry here was paralyzed. Protection here did not save our mills from disaster then and neither did our panic keep the European mills from buying cotton at good prices. Curious wasn't it?

About the only bugaboo the farmers have to fear is over-production. While it is to be dreaded, the boll weevil is a cotton bull, affecting the buyers more than it does the sellers.

Men who live outside the city but own lots of property in it, were innocent bystanders at the municipal election on Monday. The suburbanites couldn't vote, but we let them do business in the city and help watch Wilmington grow.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Newbern offers to North Carolina a splendid example of what the sidewalks should be in a city, Raleigh can well take a leaf out of Newbern's note book in putting its sidewalks into the best possible shape.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The contract for the erection of buildings for the Craven County Farm Life School was awarded today. This school is going to be an institution that will be a credit to the county, and we hope it will be completed in time to open up next Fall.—Newbern Sun.

The Wilmington Star says: "The City Council of South Norwalk, Conn., has passed an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for courting and spooning couples to get too affectionate on a stone wall, fence, church steps or curb stone. 'All the world loves a lover', but he has no business giving a free exhibition in competition with the movies." Hope that council made it plain just how affectionate spooning couples might get. Nobody should be punished for crossing a line that is not clearly drawn.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The Journal ventures to join the women of Newbern in extending a cordial welcome to the many visitors in the city this week drawn here by the meeting of the Federation of Woman's Clubs. Newbern expects to get inspiration and information from the meeting and it hopes to reciprocate by making our visitors happy while in the city. Newbern indeeds feels honored by having been chosen as the meeting place for such a large and influential body, and may the deliberations of the body be marked by every agreeable feature and may they result, as we believe they will, in a distinct way, in all those wholesome and gracious influences exerted by cultured Christian womanhood.—Newbern Journal.

Relatives of William Gaillard Dozier Are Sought—War Incident.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., May 6.—Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, has called upon Senator Smith, of South Carolina, to aid him in locating the relatives of Wm. Gaillard Dozier, apparently an officer in the Confederate States Navy, in order that a Bible captured at Sailor's Creek on April 6th, 1865, may be restored to his family. The Bible is now in the possession of Joseph Kinyon, who was a soldier in the "war of the rebellion." in Company I, 26th Michigan Infantry.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, has taken the matter up with Mr. A. S. Salley, secretary of the South Carolina Historical Society, with the hope of ascertaining the identity of the relatives of Mr. Dozier. A copy of the following letter from Mr. S. P. Hicks, of Lowell, Mich., has also been given to the press:

"Lowell, Mich., April 29, 1913.

"William Alden Smith, United States Senate, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:—An old comrade and a mutual acquaintance, Joseph Kinyon, who was a soldier in the war of the rebellion in Co. I, 26th Michigan Infantry, has brought to my office this morning an old Bible, evidently owned during the war by an officer of the Confederate Navy. The name on the fly leaf is Wm. Gaillard Dozier. There is also a sheet giving a family record. From notations in the Bible we find that at one time he was on the U. S. steamer Saranac in 1858. Later was on the Confederate steamer Pamlico. As near as we can ascertain he was on the same steamer in 1862. In 1860 he was on the U. S. S. Richmond. On Nov. 12, 1861, we find that he was on the C. S. S. Pamlico looking after the 'enemy'. In another place we find that on Nov. 20, 1864, he was on the C. S. Chicamauga and was engaged at Fort Fisher.

"I will not attempt to give you the various notations. His vessel run into Wilmington the night before its investment. The book was presented to the party by his mother in Washington on March 30, 1850. The residence of the party was in the Williamsburg District, S. C. In an envelope pasted on the cover is a lock of hair taken from his wife's head; also a lock of hair taken from his baby whom he has never seen. Also a card bearing the name of S. Chatborn Brown, M. D., a brother-in-law, whose residence was No. 2, George street, Charleston, S. C. The Bible itself is bound in morocco. Its size is about four by six inches.

"Mr. Kinyon would be very glad to restore this Bible to any member of the family that may be found. It was captured at Sailor's Creek on April 6, 1865.

"Sincerely yours,

UNDERWOOD BILL DISCUSSED.

At the Annual Convention of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers.

Philadelphia, May 6.—The Underwood tariff bill, the minimum wage, and other legislation aimed to improve working conditions were criticised by speakers at the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers, which opened here today.

Charles E. Leippe, president of the association, declared that the "policy of the present administration on the tariff question will injure the American knitter and his employer, and will benefit only the foreign manufacturer and a few importers."

Charles Vezin, of New York, objected to the minimum wage law for women, and declared that if the Underwood tariff bill were submitted to popular vote it would be defeated.

TO PALE THIN PEOPLE

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Offers to Pay for Samose if It Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, nature will soon assert her natural powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. They make this offer generally and want all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from them on those terms.

LYNCHING IN GEORGIA

While Sheriff Slept Negro is Taken Away and Strung Up

Appling, Ga., May 6.—While Sheriff Crawford was asleep in his room in the Columbia county jail early this morning, a mob quietly entered the prison, took John Henry Moore, a negro, from his cell, and hanged him to a nearby tree. It was several hours before the sheriff knew of the lynching. Moore and two other negroes had been arrested Saturday night on a charge of firing pistols and otherwise terrorizing the community of Martinez, near here. The sheriff says he saw no indications of mob violence Monday night.

A "CURE"? FOR BALDNESS

The above expression is one which is used frequently in connection with hair preparations. Just exactly what is meant by it in each instance is a question. Baldness is not a disease and hence, does not permit of a cure. It is a result invariably to be traced to the dandruff germ and if the condition has become chronic, that is, if there is complete atrophy of the hair follicles, a "cure" is absolutely impossible.

Approaching baldness, seen in falling hair, may always be checked and if the hair follicles are not atrophied the hair may be induced again to grow.

This is accomplished by regular applications of Newbro's Herpicide which cleanses the scalp and kills the dandruff germ. The destruction of the germ does away with the accumulations of scarf skin and thus eliminates the most common enemy to beautiful hair.

Soft, glossy, fluffy hair cannot grow on a scalp infested with dandruff any more than a delicate plant can grow on an ash heap. The scalp must be kept clean and free from dandruff. The best remedy for doing this is Newbro's Herpicide which receives the highest endorsements from professional men, the stage and the best people everywhere.

Herpicide is sold and guaranteed in one dollar size bottles by all druggists. Applications obtained at all first-class barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

NEW CITY ADMINISTRATION

Mayor and Councilmen Took Charge Yesterday Morning—Law Enforcement Keynote of Opening Address by Mayor

"I want to tell you that Quince Moore and this Council will stand together to the man for the enforcement of law and maintenance of order. The good people of Wilmington have elected us to these high offices and they have nothing to fear from us. The reports that have been circulated that Quince Moore, if elected, would turn this good town over to the riff-raff of the city was known at the time to be false by those circulating them. Quince Moore and this Council shall stand for the right and the enforcement of law."

With this declaration by Mayor Parker Quince Moore, speaking for himself and the newly elected Council, the new city administration took the reins of government yesterday at noon. The Mayor's office was crowded with friends and admirers of the new Mayor and Councilmen to witness the ceremonies incident to the shifting of the responsibilities of the government from the shoulders of the five men who have been at the head of the affairs for the past two years to the six men who will preside over the destinies of the city for the ensuing two years. In the number were several ladies, relatives and close friends of members of the new official body.

For the guidance through the trials and tribulations that will doubtless be his during the two years and as a token of their esteem and friendship and appreciation of his services on the retiring Council, a Holy Bible was presented to Mayor Moore by Councilman M. G. Tiencken, in behalf of his colleagues on the outgoing board. It is a handsomely bound book and on one of the leaves in the fore part of the book is inscribed the names of Joseph D. Smith, the retiring Mayor, and Messrs. B. C. Moore, M. G. Tiencken and W. E. Perdew, the retiring Councilmen, who are the donors of the token. The gift was greatly appreciated by Mayor Moore, who said that he would frequently seek guidance from its pages during the administration.

The retiring Mayor made a few remarks in which he spoke briefly of the work of the past two years and urged the co-operation of the people in making the new administration the most successful Wilmington has ever known.

Following the address of Mayor Moore, in which he outlined briefly the policy of the administration with respect to the enforcement of law, and spoke his appreciation of the confidence the people had reposed in him, promising to give to his office his very best service, there was a most interesting impressive scene when all in the room got themselves in position to have a picture made by the Capitol Moving Picture Co. Mayor Moore, standing, had on his right his mother, Mrs. Roger Moore, and on his left, his wife, while to the left of Mrs. P. Q. Moore stood the retiring Mayor Joseph D. Smith. When Mrs. P. Q. Moore walked across the room to join her husband at the head of the Councilmanic table there was generous applause from the spectators for the "first lady of the city."

After being in session for a little more than half an hour the Council adjourned at 12:45 o'clock to meet at 9:15 o'clock this morning in the first regular session.

Returns Canvassed

The City Board of Elections met in the Mayor's office shortly after 11 o'clock to canvass the returns from the election and to certify to the result to the city clerk and treasurer. The work was completed shortly before noon.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the old Council was called to order by Mayor Smith. Councilmen B. C. Moore, M. G. Tiencken and W. E. Perdew were present. Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, announced that the City Board of Elections had given a certificate of the result of Monday's election, showing the vote received by each candidate for Mayor and Councilmen and declaring the winners. Captain Meares then read the report as filed with him. While the report was being read the new Mayor and Councilmen filed in the room and stood together on the south side of the Councilmanic table through the remainder of the reading. Captain Meares finished amidst applause. Upon motion the returns of the election were made a part of the record of the Council, being incorporated in the minutes of the meeting, and later read to the body in the form in which they appear by Captain Meares.

His Farewell Talk

After two years of service and without one time yielding to the entreaties of his friends to answer certain newspaper criticisms made of the administration from time to time by dissatisfied persons but quietly pursuing the even tenor of his way, working always, in a quiet but effective way, for the upbuilding and betterment of the municipalty, Joseph D. Smith, the retiring Mayor, yesterday at noon broke the long spell of silence and told the assemblage that was present to witness the induction into office of the Mayor and Council, some of the difficulties with which his administration had to contend—difficulties that for the most part were surmounted and overcome. The former Mayor did not speak long, but what he had to say was direct to the point. He said that in the two years he had been at the head of affairs of the city he had tried in every way possible to do his whole duty. Not being at the head of any department of consequence and the Mayor being shorn of most of his power by the commission form bill, the retiring Mayor said that he was not often in the limelight but was nevertheless deeply interested in the welfare of the city and the success of the administration and he believed his efforts had accomplished something. There were times, he said, when he was almost swept off his feet, figuratively speaking, but he nearly always managed to keep his balance. Always, he said, he had his trust in God and sought guidance from the Almighty and he attributed whatever success he had scored to divine aid that was given him. Mr. Smith said that he had always advised caution in the many problems that came up to be solved by the Council and declared his belief to be that much had been accomplished by this policy, notably the amount that had been saved in the settlement of the sewerage controversy.

Mr. Smith thought that the Council, a much-abused body, had done much for which it should be given credit and would, he thought, in course of a few years be praised for many things for which it is now blamed. He said this was true of all administrations. There have been differences on the Council, he said, but these have all been settled and there was then a spirit of friendliness among all. The slight disturbances that arose from time to time were only evidences that the members of the board were men—men who had opinions and the courage of their convictions.

He gave to Councilman P. Q. Moore full credit, he said, for his work as Councilman in charge of the Department of Streets and Wharves. Every day the Councilman would come into the Mayor's office and inquire if any complaints had been received so that he could give relief so far as possible.

Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, had well performed his duties, he said. Mr. Moore was the one man of the Council for this department. He has done all that it was possible to be done. He has been fearless, said the retiring Mayor, and people have blamed him. But as the years go by people will more and more think of him as the man who redeemed Wilmington from the lawless element and establish here law and order.

Mr. Smith said that as to the city's finances much had been said as to expenditures, but he was certain that every cent had been honestly spent for the good of the city. No one, he said, could truthfully say that any of the money was wrongfully spent. And for all that has been expended there is something to show for it, he said.

In conclusion, he made a plea for the co-operation of the public with the new Council in order that the best results might be accomplished. He urged that when one has a complaint to make that they go direct to the Council and not attack them through the newspapers.

Here Mr. Smith uttered a most fervent prayer that the good order that has been maintained here in the past few months may be continued to the end of the chapter and at the end of the present administration it can be said by all that Wilmington has had a good government in every respect. Mr. Smith made an especially strong plea in behalf of his successor because he knew the duties and responsibilities devolving upon the chief magistrate of a town. He said that Parker Quince Moore was a reasonable man and is always ready to listen to the other side of a question, therefore, all may feel assured of a respectful hearing before he passes upon a matter. Mr. Smith expressed the hope that at the end of the two years the people could say that Joe Smith made a good Mayor but Quince Moore had made a better one.

Takes Oath of Office

The oath of office was administered to Mayor Moore by Recorder John J. Furlong, a close personal and political friend of the new Mayor and who did yoeman service for the cause in Monday's election.

Just before Mayor Moore took his seat as chief executive of the city, Councilman M. G. Tiencken, of the Department of Finance and Accounts, presented him with the Bible which was given as a gift from the retiring Council. Councilman Tiencken said that it was given to him not only as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the Council but that he might read it some times to be guided by its teachings. The Lord has upheld us, said Councilman Tiencken, or we might have gone apart. Take this Book, he continued, and read it when it is necessary for your guidance in the administration of the affairs of the city.

Mayor Gets Another Poem

At this juncture the retiring Mayor stated that he had received another poem anent his retirement from official life, and said he was thankful to the young lady who had presented it to him. The poem read:

"Don't you wake and call me early, or disturb me, do you hear?
For tomorrow'll be the gladdest day I've had for just a year.
Tomorrow I will rest in bed, without a thought of care—
For some one else will take my place —no more will I be Mayor."

The new members of Council then took their positions around the Councilmanic table and were sworn in by Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer. Then the new board was formally called to order by Mayor Parker Quince Moore. The new Council is composed of the following: First Ward, W. F. Jones, Esq.; Second, T. W. Wood; Third, B. A. Merritt; Fourth, D. N. Chadwick, Jr.; Fifth, Chas. C. Loughlin, Esq.

New Mayor Speaks

"To tell you," said Mayor Moore in beginning his remarks, "that I am happy that you have selected me as your Mayor would be expressing it but mildly. Any man would be proud to be elected to chief magistracy of the grandest town in the State and one of the grandest in the South, if not a native, and for one who has grown up here among you to be elected to the highest office in the gift of the municipality is all the more glorious.

"In the campaign just ended reports were circulated to the effect that if elected I would use my influence to turn the place over to the riff-raff, to the lawless element, and law and order would be no more observed. I want to say right here today that when they circulated such reports they knew at the time they were telling something that was absolutely untrue. I want to tell you one and all that Quince Moore and this Council will stand together to the man for the enforcement of law. If I failed to enforce the law I would be untrue to myself, untrue to the memory of a sainted father, untrue to the respect for a good mother, untrue to the loyal wife who has glorified my life; I could not look my young son in the eye; I could not take my little daughter into my lap, knowing that I had violated my oath of office."

This declaration of the new Mayor, who in his utterance is backed by the entire Council, knocks into a cocked hat the report that has been circulated for the past few days that the present administration would stand for an "open town."

Continuing, Mayor Moore said that the good people of Wilmington had elected him and the Council and that they had nothing to fear in the way of the enforcement of law. He said that he appreciated the confidence the people had reposed in him. Mayor Smith said that the new administration would have some propositions to handle. The last administration, he said, left a heavy debt but with something to show for it. This debt must be taken care of by the present administration. He thought that with the people rallying to the support of the administration there would be no such word as fail.

He thanked members of the retiring Council for the Bible and expressed the hope that it would guide him safely through the pitfalls and dangers to be met with. As he reads it he will think of those who gave it, he said.

In conclusion, he again thanked the people for their confidence, asked for the hearty support of all and urged that if any person has any criticism to make that it be presented so that all may work together to make Wilmington even a grander city than it is now.

With snapshots by the picture men the gathering came to an end. The first regular weekly meeting will be held this morning at the usual hour.

WHO'S WHO? THE QUESTION

Keen Interest in Council's Selection of City Attorney, Chief of Police and Other Officers—Meeting This Morning.

The question that is now uppermost in connection with the new Mayor and Council, is who's who with reference to the various appointive offices. There was a great deal of speculation yesterday as to whom Council would appoint city attorney, chief of police and other positions to be filled, for it was known that the new Councilmen had held a caucus, at which they had arrived at some sort of agreement in regard to this matter.

As to the result of the caucus, nothing could be learned. One after another the new officials declared that they could nottell what had been done. It was learned, however, that the action of the caucus would be confirmed at the meeting this morning at 9:15 o'clock, and if this proves true, suspense, anxiety and speculation will not last very long.

It was rumored yesterday that Justice W. A. McGowan as good as had the position of chief of police "cinched", but the names of Chief Fowler, Mr. N. J. Williams, formerly chief, Justice George Harriss and Mr. C. S. Burnett were put forward as strong candidates for the place.

There was another rumor that at caucus Monday night, when the office of city attorney was reached, there was opposition to the incumbent, Herbert McClammy, Esq., but that yesterday this had melted away and Mr. McClammy would be the choice of the Council. Other lawyers whose names have been urged are those of A. G. Ricaud, Esq., Woodus Kellum, Esq., L. Clayton Grant, Esq., and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan.

It was further rumored that Council had considered the idea of abolishing the separate office maintained by the Water and Sewerage Department and increase the duties of the city clerk and treasurer to the extent of supervision over this department. In the event the change is made the water and seewrage rents will be paid direct to the city clerk and treasurer.

There are said to be a large number of candidates for the position of superintendent of streets. Among those mentioned are the present superintendent, Mr. Johnson. Messrs. John McAlister, James E. Holton, George Grant, a Mr. Jones, whose initials were not learned.

Rumor also had it that the Councilmen had virtually agreed on the various duties which each would assume in the division of the departments or committees of the city. The commission form, it will be recalled, has been abolished, and the Councilmen now are on about the old aldermanic basis and will do their work through committees. There will be a committee in charge of streets, of water and sewerage, of police, etc., and these committees, it is said, will be chosen more by the Councilmen themselves than by appointment by the Mayor.

The probable changes throughout the entire governmental forces of the city have been widely discussed, and the whole city is on tip toe to catch the first news of the appointments of the new administration.

OVER 150 GALLONS WHISKEY.

Chief of Police Fowler Inventories Stock of Captured Booze.

The end of the administration of the past two years having been reached, Chief of Police Fowler yesterday took an inventory of the stock of whiskey at police headquarters, booze that has been seized from time to time, and held pending some disposition of it. The total is about 153 gallons. Some of it is in large packages, notably the trunk captured a few days ago, which contains 310 half-pints and numerous quarts. The stock was depleted some time since by a decision handed down from the Supreme Court, to the effect that about 300 bottles of beer and whiskey should be restored to a man who had been indicted for selling whiskey, and from whom the stuff had been taken.

The itemized list shows seven cases of 58 pints each, or 406 pints in all; two cases of 12 quarts each; 1,202 half pints; 55 loose pints, 19 loose quarts, one keg of 4 1-2 gallons and one of 2 1-2 gallons, three one-gallon glass jugs, and 43 bottles of beer.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Very Little Doing at Yesterday's Session—Cases Today.

Yesterday's session of the Recorder's court had no features and no case of interest. Several who celebrated election night were on hand, but got away with the costs or drew a nol pros. Henry Benson and Son Sampson, boys, were charged with larceny of a gold watch from O. D. Holmes. Benson was paroled in the care of Rev. Father Hayden and the case against Sampson was continued. Alford Barnes, vagrancy, was released with the understanding that if he is here today, capias will be issued.

Today the cases against William Clark, obstructing officers in discharge of their duty; E. Williams, retailing, and Zollie Pierce and Robert Black, larceny of two barrels of lard and a mule and dray, will be heard.

BERRIES IN NEED OF RAIN.

Good Prospects of Generous Crop if Season is Favorable.

In spite of all the unfavorable weather of the past, the berry growers have good prospects of a generous crop yet, if it will rain a bit and give the berries a chance. Just now the weather is quite dry in the berry belt and the movement is showing up small. Last night not over six cars went out of the W. & W. road country and not over 15 from the Chadbourn district. With a favorable season the movement would increase rapidly and heavy shipments could be made before the end of the crop. There was no vegetable movement out of this place last night.

ONE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

City and County Boards Will be Consolidated Today—Meeting This Afternoon to Elect a Superintendent

Effective today the city and county health departments are consolidated by an act of the last Legislature and control and supervision of the one department is placed in the hands of the County Board of Health, which meets in the Court House at 3 o'clock this afternoon to elect the superintendent, assistant superintendents, health officers and all other help that will be needed in the operation of the department.

The County Board of Health is now composed of Chairman Willard, of the Board of County Commissioners; Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction; Mayor Parker Quince Moore, of Wilmington; Dr. A. H. Harriss and Dr. R. Harllee Bellamy. Dr. Harriss is just recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis and has been at his Summer home on Greenville Sound for the past week recuperating, but as he was able to be in town for a short time Monday it is thought that he will be strong enough to attend and take part in the meeting this afternoon.

It is one of the most important meetings ever held by a county board of health of New Hanover. It is so regarded by the members. The success of the scheme to operate only one health department for the city and county will depend largely upon the ability of the superintendent, assistants and other help who are elected at the meeting today.

A big fight is likely to develop over the selection of the superintednent. In fact, it seems to be a foregone conclusion that one of the liveliest fights since the early days of the old City Council will be made when the election of a superintendent comes up. The fight will center about Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, who has been city superintendent of health for the past two years, and who is a receptive candidate for the office under the consolidation.

The opposition to Dr. Nesbitt will be led by Dr. R. Harllee Bellamy. It is understood that he opposes Dr. Nesbitt for three reasons, namely: First, because the local medical fraternity, he says, is against Dr. Nesbitt; second, because the majority of the citizens of Wilmington are bitterly opposed to him; third, because of damage said to have been done the city in the article in the March number of the World's Works on the Wilmington health situation, written by Mr. Frank Parker Stockridge, now managing editor of The Popular Mechanics, Chicago. It is reported that Dr. Bellamy has notified Dr. Nesbitt by letter of his purpose to oppose his election at the meeting today and set forth clearly his reasons, as briefly outlined above.

A large delegation of promient citizens, it was said last night, will appear before the board this afternoon and answer categorically each assertion made by Dr. Bellamy. It is said that the endorsement of a number of prominent local physicians will be presented to the board by the delegation to disprove the statement that the medical fraternity to the man is against Dr. Nesbitt. To prove that the present administration of the city health department is not looked upon with disfavor by the people, a petition containing the names of several hundred leading citizens will be presented. In answer to the third reason given by Dr. Bellamy, it is understood that the delegation will contend that the city was not in any way damaged by the publication of the article mentioned, but on the other hand it was benefitted by reason of favorable advertising, and will point to the fact that a committee from the Columbia Chamber of Commerce was sent here as a result of the article, the committee stating that the article brought them and that they had found things exactly as represented in the article and were more than well pleased with the health and sanitary conditions of the city, and also the delegation will point to the notice given Dr. Nesbitt's address at the Southern Sociological Congress, Atlanta, as further evidence of the fact that he is regarded as an expert in health matters and has presented Wilmington in a favorable light before the world.

The above appears to be about the line of attack and defense of the present health department. While no one seen yesterday professed to know exactly how Dr. Harriss stands on the question it seemed to be the impression that he would vote with Dr. Bellamy against Dr. Nesbitt. Chairman Willard is out and out for Dr. Nesbitt and so is Prof. Catlett and both will support him at the meeting today. Mayor Moore told several persons yesterday afternoon that he had not had time to give the matter the careful consideration that he thought it deserved, therefore was not able to say just how he would vote. No one would hazard a guess as to whom he will vote for.

Some weeks ago Dr. Bellamy was in correspondence with a Philadelphia physician, so it is reported, and he thought well of the idea of selecting him for the place, but other members rather discouraged the suggestion of going out of the city for a superintendent and the matter was apparently dropped. Whether it will bob up again this afternoon remains to be seen. The only two local physicians whose names have been mentioned in connection with the superintendency of the department, aside from Dr. Nesbitt, are Dr. Joseph Akerman, coroner of the county, who was city superintendent of health just preceding Dr. Nesbitt, and Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, until recently a member of the County Board of Health, resigning upon his selection as a member of the State board. So far as known neither one of these gentlemen are candidates for the office, but their names have been mentioned as suitable men for the place. Dr. Akerman has been recommended for the place to a member of the board by a leading physician.

Dr. W. D. MacMillan has been county superintendent of health for a number of years, but so far as could be learned he is not a candidate for the position under the consolidation plan. However, he may be a candidate for the position of county physician. Dr. John Thames is the assistant city superintendent of health and will likely be offered a place in the new administration.

The result of the meeting this afternoon will be awaited with the keenest interest throughout the city.

DELINQUENTS PAYING UP.

Persons Owing Fines and Costs in Recorder's Court Settling.

Deputy Clerk Cyrus D. Hogue and Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly, in accordance with the instructions issued by the County Commissioners Monday, began issuing and serving capiases yesterday for all persons owing fines and costs in the Recorder's court, and as a result about 15 delinquents paid up promptly. It is a case of go to jail or pay up, and all paid but one, who was placed in jail for a short time, and he also secured the money necessary to get his release. The Commissioners ordered that the deputy clerk and a deputy sheriff go over the list, that capiases be issued and served, and every dollar that is collectible, be collected. The deputy is to get 10 per cent. of the amounts due, whether the money is paid or the defendant goes to the roads. The cost of the capias is added to the original bill. It was shown that about $4,300 is due the court in fines and costs, and the Commissioners adopted a resolution asking the Recorder hereafter, if it was not inconsistent with his duties, to enforce the collection of fines imposed and costs fixed in his court.

CARD OF THANKS.

In this way I desire to publicly thank each and everyone who supported me so loyally in the municipal election on Monday. That their efforts were not successful is not so disappointing to me personally as it is accompanied by my personal regrets at the disappointment of my friends. Each and everyone made a manful fight and they have my sincerest appreciation of their fidelity and loyalty.

A Cottolene Strawberry Short Cake

Pastry made with Cottolene is smoother in texture, finer-grained and better in flavor than if made from butter or lard.

And Cottolene costs no more than lard, and will go one-third farther than either butter or lard.

There is as much difference between

Cottolene

and its imitations as between extra good and very poor butter. Be careful, avoid substitutes.

TRY THIS RECIPE:

1 quart flour 1 pint milk 6 tablespoons Cottolene
1 heaping teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder

Mix dry ingredients together and sift into chopping bowl. Add Cottolene chilled, chop lightly until well mixed; be careful to keep everything cold. Now add the milk, stirring lightly. Divide dough into 6 parts, rolling each piece the size and shape of a plate. Put 2 cakes into each plate and bake about 15 minutes in quick oven. Place on hot plate, tear cakes apart and spread sweetened mashed strawberries between and over the cakes. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve at once.

REHEARSALS FOR "SYLVIA"

Operetta to be Given at High School Friday Night Arouses Interest

Every night rehearsals are putting the finishing touches on the performance of "Sylvia," which will be given in the High School auditorium Friday night by the High School Choral Society. At the rehearsal last night a marked improvement both in the chorus drills and the work of the principals was noticeable.

Tonight for the first time the rehearsal will be in full costume. Costumes of the English 18th century period, to fit the time of the operetta, have been furnished by a New York costumer, in part, and local garrets have been ransacked to provide the remainder. The contrast between the gorgeous costumes of the principals and the comparatively simple costumes of the choruses will make one of the most interesting details of the play.

The High School auditorium, which is ample in size for even a larger production than "Sylvia," will be set with appropriate stage pieces and especially lighted for the occasion.

As the time for the performance draws near much interest is being shown both by the High School students and persons outside the school. A canvass of the High School students has indicated so large an attendance that the allotment of tickets to outsiders has been necessarily limited to the capacity of the auditorium. It is hoped that the parents of the school children will be the first to avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase these tickets, inasmuch as the play is being given chiefly for their interest. Of course, any other person who secure tickets will be welcome.

Tickets have been placed in the hands of the High School children for distribution, and are also on sale at C. W. Yates & Co., W. R. Dosher & Co., DeRosset's Book Store. The prices are 25, 35 and 50 cents.

NEGRO SERIOUSLY STABBED

Ben McMillan Cuts Jesse Spirman at Negro Frolic

At a late hour last night, at 12th and Dock streets, Ben McMillan, colored, seriously and perhaps fatally stabbed Jesse Spirman, colored. There was a frolic on, a "schoolalong," as they call it, and the story is that McMillan thought it was time for the thing to adjourn, and saying he was going to break it up, he went inside and stabbed Spirman several times in the back and shoulders. Negroes scattered through the doors, windows and any other means of exit. The officers got McMillan and locked him up, and Spirman was sent to the hospital. The physicians couldn't say if he was fatally hurt at the time.

Coster, it being asserted that each saved the lad's life. Some say both did, and hence credit may be divided between them.

Work on the new church building of St. Paul's Episcopal church on 16th street, between Market and Princess, is well under way, the foundation having been laid and framing placed. It will have a seating capacity of about 200, and the interior furnishings and the stained windows of the old edifice will be used in the new.

PHYSICIANS IN SESSION

Many Subjects of Professional and General Interest Are Discussed

Washington, May 6.—The Ninth Triennial Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons began its sessions here today, the meetings being presided over by Colonel William C. Gorgas, the United States surgeon, who made the canal zone inhabitable. At the same time the fourteenth component bodies of the Congress began sessions, at which many technical papers on subjects of great interest to the profession wer read.

The congress, at its initial session had under discussion a study of renal functions with reference to various phases of rheumatism and kidney ailments. Papers were read by Drs. Henry A. Christian, of Boston; Theodore C. Janeway, of New York; Leonard G. Rowntree, of Baltimore.

At the meeting of the American Neurological Association, Dr. E. W. Scripture, of New York, attracted much attention with a paper on "The Dreams of a Sleep Talker," in which he discussed the nature of dreams generally. He said that ambidexterious persons never dream, while right-handed dream with the right hemisphere of the brain, because they use the left brain lobe for conscious thinking. Comparatively speaking, he said, modern scientists know as little about dreams as man did when the first sleeper had his first dream.

Tonight the members of the congress listened to a paper on the sanitation of the Panama canal, and its relation to sanitation of the tropics generally, read by Dr. Georgas. The meeting was followed by a reception.

FINAL TONE COTTON STEADY

Market Closed at Lowest Point Attained During the Day—Rains in Eastern Belt Caused Turn in Prices.

New York, May 6.—After an early rally, the cotton market turned easier on reports that desired rains were appearing in sections of the Eastern belt, and closed at practically the lowest point of the day. The final tone was steady, with March 1 point higher, but with the general list net unchanged to five points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1@2 points in response to somewhat disappointing Liverpool cables, and there seemed to be a few outright selling orders around the ring, which may have been expected by yesterday's reports of prospective curtailment in some of the Fall River mills. Offerings were well taken at the initial figures, however, and the market soon steadied on covering, foreign buying and support from local bulls or reactionists who were talking an oversold market.

Spot cotton closed steady. Middling uplands, 11.90; middling gulf, 12.15. Sales, none.

Cotton futures closed steady.

BRUNSWICK AFFAIRS

Auditor and Recorder's Bills Not Favored—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., May 6.—Petitions today are being sent from here to all parts of the county, for the signatures of citizens, asking the Legislature to rescind the bills that were passed, appointing an Auditor and Recorder for Brunswick county, upon the grounds, that the voters and citizens knew nothing of such action to be taken, and that such offices were unnecessary and expense to the county. With these petitions, the Board of County Commissioners send a letter, practically endorsing the facts stated. These petitions are to be returned, and will be sent to Raleigh.

L. S. Fefel, whose appointment as auditor signed by Governor Craig, was refused by the Commissioners, presented his receipted bill for April "services" to the board at its meeting this week. No notice was taken of it.

There was a sale of lands for taxes today, the sale being a small one as most of the taxes had been settled.

An application by the white voters of school district No. 4, Town Creek, was presented to the County Board of Education, at its meeting on Monday, for the privilege of holding an election to vote a special school tax. This was granted by the board, and an election ordered to be held on June 12th.

A regular Spring fog floated in last night, and this morning it was so thick that all river craft had to keep their whistles going. The fog had enough moisture to equal to a light rain.

Reports say that black fish are in great numbers outside and only absence of fishermen causes the consumer to be without this very edible fish.

The good roads bonds for Lockwoods Folly and Shallotte townships, which were sold to Asheville parties, were received and today were signed by the chairman of the board. Bids for the construction of the work will soon be asked for.

SPEAKING AT ROSE HILL

Two Excellent Educational Addresses There Last Week

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rose Hill, N. C., May 5.—The people of this community had the pleasure on Friday night of hearing two of the best educational addresses ever heard by any audience in Duplin county. The first speaker was Judge O. H. Allen, who came down from his home at Kinston because he felt that it was his duty to help those who had always been his friends. Judge Allen, after being presented to the large audience by Dr. Ransom L. Carr, spoke touchingly and with deep feeling, while he pleaded with the voters of this graded school district to vote for the bond issue on May 13th, for a larger and better school building. He told the people that every town should have three things before it could grow or amount to anything. Frist. A splendid citizenship. Second. Good churches. Third. Good schools. He dwelt at some length on the necessity of a comfortable and attractive place where all the children could have room and light and comfort. He appealed to his audience to stand by the boys and girls who are soon to come out in life to shoulder the burdens on all sides.

Judge Allen happily introduced W. P. Stacy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, who spoke for an hour and made an eloquent argument for the bond issue. He caught the audience at once and held it spellbound in one of the strongest speeches ever heard here. He was frequently applauded during his able and eloquent speech. At the conclusion men and women congratulated the speakers and they did great good by coming out.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggist's Advice With Splendid Result.

If any one should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it over his counter every day in the week, and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline, of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had an attack which was more severe than any and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite and I am as strong as I ever was. I advise all who have bronchitis to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient in such cases.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

MILLIONAIRE INDICTED.

Charged With Contributing to Delinquency of Minor Girls.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 6.—George H. Bixby, the Long Beach banker indicted on two charges of having contributed to the delinquency of minor girls, appeared before Justice Reeve today, in response to a citation in contempt, issued when he failed to answer a subpoena requiring his presence in the hearing of Mrs. Emma J. Goodman, alias Josie Rosenberg, indicted on two charges of pandering.

Bixby told the court he had been informed by attorneys that his presence was not required, until they gave him a date on which they wanted him to testify. He said he had intended to evade or ignore the summons. The hearing was continued until May 16th. Several more arrests were made today of women and girls said to have frequented disorderly houses.

SPECIAL SESSION.

New Jersey Legislature Considers Jury Reforms.

Trenton, N. J., May 6.—Three bills providing for jury reform were introduced in the Senate when the New Jersey Legislature convened today in special session to consider that problem, a constitutional convention, and small boards of freeholders. Governor Fielder's message urged affirmative action on all three subjects.
